

PTTC Focused Technology Workshop

“PTTC Well Tender Seminar”

October 21, 2004; Marietta, OH

Workshop Summary

This workshop was our first opportunity to work with the Southeast Ohio Oil & Gas Association (SOOGA). Tim Brown, their executive director, contacted us last spring and asked if we would consider bringing the well tender workshop to their area. At first, we declined, stating that we were booked up for this year, but that we would consider it for next year. However, when we canceled the Olean, NY workshop, Matt Vavro agreed to go to Marietta instead.

We ran into a few problems getting a service agreement in place with SOOGA, but after I wrote a sole-source justification for hiring this relatively unknown group, the agreement was approved and SOOGA was given the go ahead.

According to Matt Vavro, the workshop went well. And, the post-workshop e-mails that I have received from Tim Brown certainly support this. Mr. Brown asked us to bring the workshop back next year so that more well tenders will have the opportunity to attend. Matt Vavro agreed to do so if we were interested, so I agreed. SOOGA then responded with the dates of their annual meeting next October and asked that we set the workshop in conjunction with the meeting, as we did this year.

We would have to conclude that the workshop was well received.
